National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship Program

Welcome to www.nsfgrfp.org

The National Science Foundation's Graduate Research Fellowship Program (GRFP) helps ensure the vitality of the human resource base of science and engineering in the United States and reinforces its diversity. The program recognizes and supports outstanding graduate students in NSF-supported science, technology, engineering, and mathematics disciplines who are pursuing research-based master's and doctoral degrees at accredited US institutions. The NSF welcomes applications from all qualified students and strongly encourages under-represented populations, including women, under-represented racial and ethnic minorities, and persons with disabilities, to apply for this fellowship.

The results of the 2011 GRFP are now available.

The 2011 awardees and honorable mentions list is posted on the FastLane GRFP page. Notification e-mails have been sent to all reviewed applicants.

Rating sheets have been posted on FastLane.

If you did not receive a notification, please check your spam/junk mail folder. Please e-mail info@nsfgrfp.org for further instructions if the notification is not in your junk mail folder.

Promote GRFP on Campus

- ▶ Publicize GRFP on campus
- ▶ Identify faculty willing to mentor
- ▶ Encourage faculty to volunteer to serve as a reviewer for the GRF program
- ▶ Establish peer mentoring system
- ▶ Recognize current Fellows
- ▶ Encourage students to ask Fellows for input
- ▶ Ask for outreach visit by NSF
